Thousand Dollar Club Organized To Push Sale Of War Savings Stamps

"The Thousand Dollar Club" is the name chosen for an organization of men from all over the county, formed Saturday noon at a luncheon at the Park hotel. The purpose of the luncheon was to organize the loyal representatives from each township, who were invited to attend, into an efficient force to direct the sale of War Savings Stamps in the dawning campaign to raise Coshocton county's quota of $614,000.

Fifty patriotic citizens attended the luncheon, which was planned and announced by the executive committee of the Coshocton County War Work Association in connection with the launching of the W. S. S. campaign locally. Following the lunch Chairman George M. Gray introduced Clyde L. Wells, of the local postal force, who explained the workings of the War Savings and Thrift Stamps, fully instructing the men in the detailed methods of their purchase and re-sale, together with facts concerning their redemption, recall, convertibility and rate of interest.

Mr. Wells was followed by C. B. McCoy, who made a brief patriotic appeal to the citizens of the county thru their representatives to buy freely that their respective townships may not be included among the few slackers when the final reports are turned in.

C. R. Frederickson ably instructed the future salesmen in the executive department of the coming campaign's management. His suggestions were clear, practical and of invaluable worth to his hearers.

At the close of the three short addresses the men proceeded to organize the Thousand Dollar Club, to be composed of two hundred Coshocton county citizens who are willing to buy the limit of one thousand dollars' worth of War Savings Stamps within the next twelve months, "just to demonstrate to others our opinion of the

SNOWFALL RENEWS SLEIGHING CRUST ON CO. ROADS

The heavy fall of snow Saturday insures the people of the county a continuance for a few days at least of the delightfully sleighing which has afforded much pleasure during the past five weeks.

For a period of three hours Saturday the snow came down almost as thick as raindrops during a heavy shower. The wind, blowing slightly higher than normal helped to drive it along altho the heaviness of the fall prevented much drifting.

The snow has been on the ground for a period of five weeks today. This is the longest stretch of sleighing which the residents of this county can remember, as good sleighing usually lasts about one week in this section.

FISH STORES MAY REMAIN OPEN MON.

COLUMBUS, JAN. 26.—In order that fish and poultry may be available on meatless Tuesday, Fred C. Croxton, state food administrator, authorized county food administration committees today to exempt from the Monday afternoon closing order all merchants handling foods which perish quickly.

GARFIELD TIGHTENS FUELLESS COMMAND

Administrator Says Fuel Is Anything Burned For Light, Heat, Power.

AUTOMOBILES ARE GIVEN EXEMPTION

Shipbuilding, Aeroplane Plants and Explosive Makers Exempt.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—Dr. Garfield issued orders tonight for a rock-ribbed fuelless Monday. He removes all doubt in his new rulings. He says that fuel is anything that is burned for light, heat or power. This includes coal, coke, wood charcoal, natural and artificial gas, gasoline, kerosene and alcohol.

Scores of inquiries have come from automobile users because they burn gasoline for power. Automobiles were ruled exempt from the order, altho one official says their operation takes as much gas as all war automobiles in use on any single day.

Three general classes of manufacturing plants are exempt: all shipbuilding plants, aeroplane plants and mills manufacturing explosives. The position of a plant operating under government contract is of itself no reason for exemption.

VATICAN GETS COPY OF COUNT CZERNIN'S TALK

ROME, JAN. 26.—A copy of Count Czernin's war aims speech has been received at the vatican and was being studied by the pope today. It was stated that vatican circles were pleased over the attitude adopted by Austria towards President Wilson's peace principles.

Swift & Co., Bear Lion's Share in Making Up Purse to Influence the Men On Judiciary Committee.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—The five Chicago packing companies under the shadow of a federal investigation agreed to spend $15,000 in an effort to defeat the Borland resolution calling for the inquiry. This fact developed this afternoon before the federal trade commission when Francis J. Heney read excerpts from the confidential files of Swift & Company showing the apportionment of this sum among the packers involved.

At first there were but three firms in line to fight the resolution but as other companies joined the movement there was a reapportionment, the Swift Company at all times bearing the lion's share, the figures showed.

Armour, Swift and Wilson & Co. were the original concerns to take up the cudgels against the resolution. At this time the $15,000 was apportioned as follows:

Armour, $5,851.95; Swift, $7,148.55; and Wilson, $1,999.50. Later Morris & Co. entered the fight and the reapportionment of the fund was made as follows: Armour, $4,577.70; Morris, $2,400; Swift, $5,598 and Wilson, $1,666.65.

Another reapportionment was necessitated with the entry of the Cudahy firm, the final figures being: Armour, $4,389.90; Cudahy, $1,500; Morris, $2,247.45; Swift, $5,362.65; and Wilson, $1,500.

Economy in Use of Sugar Must Continue Until Later in Year, is Gist of Chief Executive's Proclamation Issued Saturday Evening Calling for Greater Conservation of Foods.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—President Wilson tonight issued the following proclamation in regard to food conservation:

"Many causes contribute to create the necessity for a more intensive effort on the part of the people to save food in order that we may supply our associates in war with the sustenance vitally necessary to them in these days of privation and stress. The reduced productivity of Europe because of the large diversion of manpower to the war and a partial failure of harvests, and the elimination of more distant markets for foodstuffs thru the destruction of shipping places throws the burden of their sustenance very largely on our shoulders.

"The food administration has formulated suggestions, which, if followed will enable us to meet this great responsibility without real inconvenience on our part.

"In order that we may reduce our consumption of wheat, wheat products should be reduced by 30 per cent. This reduction is imperatively necessary to provide the supply for overseas. Wholesalers, jobbers and retailers should purchase and resell to customers only 70 per cent of the amounts used in 1917, all manufacturers of alimentary pastes, biscuits, crackers, pastry and breakfast cereals should reduce their purchases and consumption of wheat and wheat flour to 70 per cent of their 1917 requirements, and all bakers of bread rolls should reduce their purchases and requirements to 80 percent of their current requirements. Consumers should reduce their purchases of wheat products for home preparation at most to 70 per cent of those of last year, or when buying bread, should

GAMBLE'S ADMINISTRATION AT INFIRMARY DREW UNSTINTED PRAISE BACK IN EARLY '90'S

Again An Applicant, Mr. Gamble Says Experience And Ability Offset Years—"Inmates Need a Father Rather Than a John L. Sullivan," He Declares.

Hugh Gamble, ex-city auditor, is one of the men who recently took the civil service examination at the court house for the position of superintendent of the county infirmary.

Gamble held the position many years ago. He retired from the office Nov. 29, 1881, and the Democratic Standard, newspaper which flourished here at that time printed an account of what Mr. Gamble had done for the infirmary in the years that he had been superintendent.

Following is the article printed in the paper at that time:

A MODEL INSTITUTION

How the County's Unfortunates Are Provided For. Plenty to Eat, Good Care and Splendid Management.

A Visit to the Infirmary

In company with other local representatives of the local press, The Standard visited the county infirmary on last Tuesday and was afforded an excellent opportunity to obtain accurate information regarding the present care of this country's unfortunates, and the management of that very important department, wherein all taxpayers, and every Christian man and woman are deeply interested. A stroll thru the various rooms and wards is sufficient to convince the most skeptical that Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gamble have been untiring in their efforts to make the inmates comfortable and, if possible, happy and contented. An air of neatness and attractiveness pervades the whole institution, while the sleeping apartments of the inmates are all neatly carpeted and have such a tidy appearance, that one can't but contrast them with many of the so-called first-class hotels. This system of cleanliness is observable in every nook and corner from lower cellar to garret. While inspecting the place, Mrs. Wm. Wright, the incoming matron, was one of the party of visitors.

WILSON WARNS U. S. TO SAVE ITS SUPPLIES

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—President Wilson this afternoon completed his proclamation calling upon the American people to make greater savings in food products. It will be issued for publication tomorrow.

At the same time Food Administrator Hoover will issue regulations to enforce the saving of food stuffs, particularly wheat. Millers will be compelled to reduce their sales by 30 per cent.

It is pointed out by the food administration that 100,000,000 bushels of wheat must be saved, three-quarters of which must go to feed the allies. There must also be a saving of 70,000 pounds of beef a month, together with 150,000,000 pounds of pork products and 200,000 tons of sugar each month.

War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps offer a direct incentive to economize and save.

VIRGINIA SCHOOL TEACHER TELLS WAY TO RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLE

For Three or Four Years Suffered Himself with Indigestion, Lack of Appetite, and Would Often Have Nervous, Dizzy, Vomiting Spells After Breakfast

TELLS HOW HE CURED HIMSELF

"I was suffering terribly from stomach trouble and indigestion. I had suffered three or four years and after trying several patent medicines without getting relief I was greatly distressed. I lacked a good appetite and after breakfast I would have vomiting spells and dizzy nervous attacks due to the condition of my stomach. After those years of suffering Acid Iron Mineral was recommended to me as a great remedy for such troubles and I was completely cured of indigestion and sickness after using two bottles. It helped me when nothing else would and I believe it will help others with the same trouble because I know what it will do. It is a great blood purifier too," declared Mr. F. G. Addison, a school teacher at Van Dyke, Va.

Teachers, professors, doctors, surgeons, hospitals and people all over the United States during the past thirty years have praised this natural, highly concentrated iron in liquid form as put up under the Ferrodo Chemical Corp. trade mark, "A-I-M." This trade mark is the user's guarantee of Quality and full strength. It is on bottle and carton and Acid Iron Mineral may only be bought in original bottles.

Any man or woman, needing more strength, richer blood and better digestion and appetite, can, by using this iron, hope to feel an immense improvement in their general health inside of a couple of weeks. Being powerful, economical and harmless, it makes an ideal tonic for seasons of the year when the blood needs cleansing and one feels run down. Get a 12-ounce bottle at your druggists. This large bottle of which a few drops mixed with water and taken after meals makes a powerful dose. Get a bottle today.

General Clean-Up In The War Department

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—On the eve of the appearance of the Secretary of War, Newton D. Baker, before the senate military committee next Monday to answer Senator Chamberlain's criticism of the war department, announcement was made today of a sweeping re-organization of the quartermaster general's department.

Major General George W. Goethals, head of the department, has designated R. J. Thorne, of Chicago, in charge of maintenance and distribution. This is a new post.

A. L. Scott, of Boston, has been placed in charge of clothing and supplies generally. His duties will be to "get the stuff" regardless of red tape. Mr.

Scott succeeds Brig. General A. B. Smith, who has been retired.

Financial matters of the quartermaster's office have heretofore been handled by Brigadier General Thomas Cruse, but he has been retired. This vacancy has not been filled.

D. M. Lilley, of New York, one of the most expert shipping men in the country, will on Monday assume charge of all shipping with the title of Director of Embarkation. At present that work is being handled along with his other duties, by Brig. General Chauncey Baker.

General Goethals made it plain today that with this re-organization he hopes to be able to make the quartermaster general's department efficient.

DENY GENERAL PLOT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—Published reports that a letter warning President Wilson of a conspiracy to cripple war industries and docks simultaneously in various cities was being used in investigation of today's mysterious fires met with a categorical denial at the White House this afternoon. It was denied that any such letter had been handed over to the secret service for the reason that such a warning had not been received.

At the department of justice the story was greeted with derisive laughter. It was stated that of course an investigation was in progress, but that nothing had been turned up that indicated a nation-wide plot.

Officials stated that today's story was a revival of reports which were fully covered in the International News Service dispatches of Jan. 23. At that time it was stated that department of justice, after carefully investigating reports that a nation-wide plot to blow up munition plants and destroy docks to take place at a given hour on the night of January 22, had determined that no such plot existed. In the possibility that it might have foundation secret service agencies in every state had mobilized their men, and home guard companies had been called out.

Thrift must be practiced by the curtailment of consumption, the denial of the pleasure of spending. Invest money accumulated by thrift in War Savings Stamps.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—Most persons think of an airplane as having few parts. They are badly mistaken. This is what it takes to build one American airplane for the army: Nails, 4326; screws, 3377; steel stampings, 421; forgings, 798; turn-buckles, 276; veneer, 37 square feet; wire, 3262; varnish, 11 gallons; dope (for dressing wings), 59 gallons; aluminum, 65 lbs.; rubber, 34 feet; linen, 201 square feet; spruce, 244 feet; pine, 53 feet; ash, 31 feet; hickory, 112 feet. Or 12,952 parts in all, exclusive of the engine and materials used in bulk. These parts all have been standardized so they may be produced in increasing quantities and the parts be interchangeable.

Some one has called War Savings Certificates "Uncle Sam's Baby War Bonds." This is a good name for them.

Millions of people who had the patriotic inclination, but not the ready money to buy a $50.00 Liberty Bond, now can proudly hold up their heads and say to their Uncle Sam, "Uncle Sam, we are with you, heart, soul and money."

The quarters and dollars which you save and invest in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Certificates are used in the same blessed mission as the millions invested in Liberty Bonds.

They cloaked their steal under the name of "Indemnities" and "Fines." They robbed the well-to-do and sent the poor into slavery. The United States needs all the money it can borrow to head off the autocratic descendants of the old Robber Barons. America wants no revival of this Royal Reign of Theft.

If you believe that it is worth while to prevent your daughters from suffering the fate of the girls of Belgium, France, Servia and Roumania—condemned to a life worse than death by the Rule of Frightfulness, you will back the United States in throwing the entire weight of her arms in the scale for Civilization and Righteousness.

NEWTON D. BAKER, SECRETARY OF WAR

The reactionary interests of the United States, realizing that this war has got away from them and fearful that it will end by really making the world safe for a higher form of democracy than has ever before been known, are making a desperate drive on the Wilson administration and are centering the venom of their attacks on that real democrat, Newton Baker, secretary of war.

One of the best means of knowing men, perhaps the very best, is by the friends and enemies they make. Measuring the secretary of war by that standard Newton Baker is a fundamental democrat. The real friends of democracy in this country are his friends. Next to the appointment of Brandeis on the supreme bench the appointment of Baker to the war portfolio has been the happiest of President Wilson's major appointments.

The fundamental democrats of this country are solidly with Baker. His mistakes they admit. But his honesty and courage and ability they gladly defend because they know he possesses all of these qualities in a marked degree. And even his mistakes, in comparison with the tremendous responsibilities he has assumed, the enormous difficulties he has striven against and the wonderful results he has accomplished, fade into insignificance.

His enemies? There's where you really get acquainted with the man. Not a corrupt interest in the country but is now engaged in a secret and abominable attack on this man SIMPLY BECAUSE HE HAS DONE HIS DUTY. SIMPLY BECAUSE HE IS TRYING TO CONTRIBUTE AMERICA'S SHARE TOWARD MAKING THE WORLD SAFE FOR DEMOCRACY AND SIMPLY BECAUSE HE IS TRYING—AND SUCCEEDING—IN MAKING THIS A RICH MAN'S WAR AS WELL AS A POOR ONE'S.

This is the first war in the history of the United States which the Big Interests have not run to suit themselves. It is our first war when an honest attempt has been made to shift some of war's frightful burdens from the backs of the many to the backs of the profiteers. And in it all Newton Baker has been the president's strongest and most intelligent support.

Where do Amalgamated Copper and the Steel Trust stand as regards Newton Baker and Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy? Do you remember last March, almost a year ago, when John D. Ryan, manager of the former company, got such a boost in all the papers for offering to the government its copper supply for the average price for the ten years previous, —16 2-3 cents a pound? Then do you remember subsequently when the same amiable bunch of highbinders tried to force the government to buy their much needed output at 27 cents a pound?

If you recall that incident in our war history you will not be long in judging where some of the animosity of Big Business to Secretaries Daniels and Baker and to President Wilson himself, originates. It has been the same thing all down the line. Time after time the predatory interests of the country have been thwarted for the first time in their efforts to manipulate the various departments at Washington in a crisis for the filling of their own pockets.

We want to quote a paragraph or two in regard to Baker from The Public, the most fundamental and most intelligent organ of real democracy in America:

"There is enough murk at Washington—the murk of a government still too much dominated by property and privilege—by the blind ignorance and dogged resistance to change that accompany them. There is the dust of scandal over war contracts and other things done in the heat and excitement of our mobilization, things that never will be and never can be done in a better way until certain vicious fundamental principles of ownership and business enterprise are abandoned. But thru it all shines the light of the spirit of our two foremost leaders—Woodrow Wilson and Newton Baker. They are executors and doers of deeds and so, sometimes, compromisers, for the present. But they are also harbingers and prophets of a better day."

The Public then goes on to quote from a splendid speech of Mr. Baker's, a speech that, in contrast with the utterances of a Root or a

Roosevelt sounds like the declarations of one from a better world and a better time. The Public then goes on to say:

"Not since Lincoln's day has any war leader thus sounded the call in an address so lacking in 'sounding brass'—in the buncombe that will be tolerated no longer by the common man—that new sort of common man with his revolutionary habit of measuring all things with the realities of his daily life. How numerous and predominant that species of man is today we have no means of knowing. But he has shown himself in formidable numbers in those industries and those sections where the spirit of the President has been nullified by the acts of men working at cross purposes. And The Public ventures the guess that only as that spirit permeates our government, only to the extent that democracy is applied at home, is maintained and fostered and extended as a vital, effective, dominant force, will our great enterprise command the requisite popular support. That is why Newton D. Baker is a great Secretary of War in a sense far transcending considerations of mere military efficiency."

What are some of these "transcending considerations" Baker has manifested, you ask. Well, for one thing there had been no I. W. W. troubles in the Northwest and Southwest if the plain and simple suggestions that Mr. Baker telegraphed to the lumber operators of Washington and Oregon—suggestions which these operators heeded—AFTER the I. W. W. troubles came—HAD BEEN ADOPTED IN THE FIRST INSTANCE. And in a score of similar instances this far-seeing, level-headed democrat could have saved, often did save, labor troubles of the most serious and far-reaching nature.

Perhaps President Wilson and Mr. Baker have no more sympathy for the deeds of violence committed by the I. W. W. than have the Big Interests against which these deeds are directed. But they also lack the crass stupidity of Big Business in that they recognize the plain facts of the case. FOR EACH OF I. W. W. VIOLENCE IS A CAUSE JUST AS SURE AS BACK OF THE BOIL IS THERE A TAIN IN THE BLOOD WHICH NOT TO RADICATE IS TO INVITE SURE DISASTER AT SOME FUTURE TIME.

The country held up its hands in holy horror when members of the I. W. W. broke the hoisting machinery in a coal pit. They say production has been seriously crippled at the time of a grave national crisis. BUT HOW ABOUT THE MAN WHO HOLDS COAL LANDS IDLE FOR SPECULATIVE PURPOSES? HE HAS HINDERED PRODUCTION FAR MORE THAN ALL THE I. W. W. ORGANIZATIONS IN THE WORLD AND YET THIS MAN IS GENERALLY A PHILAR IN THE CHURCH AND HE GETS ELECTED TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE AS A REWARD FOR HIS "THIRTY" HEAVEN SAVE THE MARK!

And that statement is equally true of every idle acre, every vacant lot and of every natural resource held out of use against a people's dire needs. In this connection, while the subject of the I. W. W. is uppermost in men's minds we wish to advance the significant fact of Mark Twain's about the French Revolution and the day of reckoning we are storing up against ourselves unless JUSTICE soon supplant our FAWNING HYPOCRISY toward Predatory Wealth. Twain used to say that there were TWO REGIONS OF TERROR IN FRANCE: THE THOUSAND YEARS OF PRIVATION AND MISERY AND DEGRADATION OF THE MASSES AND THE FEW DAYS OF UPHEAVAL THAT ENDED IT.

Both Newton Baker and Woodrow Wilson have realized all this since the entrance of the United States into this war. They have done what they could to save OUR OWN COUNTRY for democracy while aiding the democratic forces of Europe to kill autocracy there. They have withstood unjust criticism from the leaders of Predatory Wealth in Wall street and the United States senate with almost the patience of a Lincoln. They have not stooped to petty personalities. They have kept their eye steadfast on the great central idea of really making the world safe for democracy.

And just in proportion as they have succeeded in their efforts have our own Junkers and Tories instinctively inclined to the side of the German Junkers and the British Tories in their inherent dread of what the coming of a real democracy HERE IN AMERICA would do to the vicious privileges which have enabled THEM to exploit a continent and a hundred million people.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, JAN. 27.—Chivalry did not sink into oblivion when Walt Raleigh permitted Queen Lizzie to French heel it over his brand new salmon pink cape. Oh, my, no! Just because most women have to battle for a strap in the subway most people believe chivalry is as dead as Rumses the Second. Not so, not so.

Jersey City is now entertaining a gentlemanly hot-up man, who is such a stickler for fair play that he always notifies the Police Department when he is about to remove a rope of pearls, a lump of sugar or some other valuable.

He set out with the intention of holding up twenty persons, and he now has seventeen to his credit. Three more to go. When he lands his revolution he is going to shake the dust of Jersey City from his feet and beat it for some other city.

The highwayman has done more for humanity than he thinks he has. He revived chivalry just when it was staggering at the count of ten. He may abolish seatless day for women in the subway by his thieftfulness.

Wouldn't it be nice if janitors would take the hint and stop spooing us and tell us frankly that the raditors were placed in flats only for ornamental purposes so that the tenant could pre-heat and import a cargo of bear hides from the Arctic during the winter?

Or it might be that the price raisers will see the idea and tell us just what the price of food was to jump about ninety points, so that the ultimate consumer could get used to straw as a diet when the crash came.

The Jersey City Galahad is said to be a demon for style. Like all his ilk he wears a silk hat, a fur coat and the conventional pearl gray spats. And—almost forgot—he smokes cigars.

ettes and carries a monocle in his optical. Sometimes one wonders where those Jersey City reporters get their hop with the war going on and everything.

Harry Kemp, the tramp poet from Kansas, is going to start a theatre of his own so he can produce his own plays. He wants to revolt not only from poor old Broadway but from all the little theatres. He says his actors will not be bullied against their better instincts into certain arbitrary notions and intonations of voice by managers or directors or any of that breed. Instead each group in the play will work out their own business spontaneously. He expects that this freedom will result in an enthusiastic succession of comedies, tragedies, pantomimes, tragicomedies, interludes, pastorals and the like.

There was a real Kris Kringle in New York around Christmas time. A tall slim clean-shaven, well-dressed man, from his beaver to his patent leather shoes, walked up to desk of the Hotel Majestic and wrote his name on the register. The clerk looked and saw "Kris Kringle, Tuscola, Ill."

"My, you have changed," said the clerk.

"Changed what do you mean?" "Well—er the last time I saw you was when I was a boy and you were stout and had whiskers."

"Ah, yes," said Mr. Kringle, "gimme a pack of cigarettes."

"Yes," said the clerk, handing him a pack of Pareils III, "and you were smoking a pipe then."

Then Mr. Kringle smiled and ordered a taxicab to take him to the theatre. His real name is Kris-Kringle and he is a stock raiser in Illinois.

And he has a lot of fun out of his name around Christmas time.

There is a hard-boiled patriot in New York who has never given a cent to war charity but he has decided to turn over all his Xmas cigars to the boys "Over there."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

VICTORY IN SIGHT

Editor The Tribune:

The twelve-year fight to keep the Nation's water power from capture by the power monopolists is at last on the verge of being won. The Administration Water Power bill, now before Congress, opens the way to save for the people of the United States their most valuable natural asset. Some fifty million water horsepower is at stake.

The bill in question was formulated under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of War, and the Secretary of the Interior, was submitted to the president for his approval, and recently put forward as an Administration measure. It deals with water power in National Forests, public lands, Indian lands, and navigable streams. A special committee of the house has been created to consider it.

It is an admirable measure, drawn with thorough knowledge and unusual skill. The principles essential for the wise use and development of our public water powers in the public interest are all embodied in it.

In my letter to you of November 16, 1917, I urged your support of the following seven definite principles in water power legislation:

(1) The thing to do with water power is to develop it. Whatever restraints or restricts the development of public water powers on terms fair to the public is against public policy and no title to the general welfare.

(2) Water power belongs to the people. The sites where it is produced, should always be held in public hands, for only so can effective control in the general interest be secured.

(3) Where public development is not desired, the right to use water power sites should be leased for periods long enough to permit sound, attractive and profitable investment, but never longer than fifty years. At the end of each lease all rights should return to the people who gave them.

(4) In order to protect the consumer against extortion, rates and service should be regulated by Federal authority when state or local authorities fail to do so.

(5) Reasonably prompt and complete development and continuous operation, subject to market conditions, should be required. Already millions of water horsepower are held out of use to further monopoly by private corporations.

(6) Corporations or individuals who make money out of rights granted by the people should share their profits with the people.

(7) The public has a right to complete information about every business based on the use of public property.

It is a real pleasure to tell you that every one of these principles is fully safeguarded in the Administration's Water Power bill. What remains, therefore, is for Congress to put this measure thru without delay.

The Administration Water Power bill will first come before the house of Representatives, where an effort will certainly be made to amend it in the interest of the power interests. If that fails, the water power lobbyists will endeavor to have the indefensible provisions of the Shields bill substituted in the senate for the administration bill. Beaten in that, they will fall back upon the formula of obstruction and delay they have used so successfully for the last ten years.

This measure is practical, fair, and wise. The friends of conservation should insist that their friends in Congress shall give their prompt and full support to the Administration Water Power bill, and shall see to it that it is passed without emasculation, substitution, or postponement. It is of vital interest to our country while the war is on, and will be equally important after the war is over.

The passage of this law will secure to the American people forever vast resources, whose use for the good of all will make this land a safer and a better place to live in. All the forces of conservation are behind it. Urge you to give the Administration Water Power bill your strongest approval and support.

Sincerely yours,

GIFFORD PINCHOT

To All Human-kind It Was Given—Inclosed Within It Is All The Music of the Ages—

STRADIVARA
"KNOWN FOR TONE"

It seems only an exquisite bit of cabinet work. A piece of furniture almost too beautiful to be placed in an ordinary setting.

But at the press of a tiny lever it places all the music of the world at your command. It's a musical instrument, yet it is infinitely more than any musical instrument. It has tapped the fountain heads of music. Its call has reached the greatest artists of the age. Their voices and instrumental creations have been contributed to its treasure-troves. Yet no melody is too simple, no instrument too humble to have escaped the magic touch of its rendition.

Music is priceless—its value cannot be computed in cold terms of dollars and cents. A world without music would be a dreary world indeed. And dreary, chill and uninviting is a home without music.

Consider what a phonograph would mean in your home. Long winter evenings brightened by its rich floods of melody. Amusement aplenty for restive children. Happy dance records for the older boys and girls. The "old-time" songs and favorite comedians for Dad. And for mother, a day-time companion, an inexhaustible source of comfort during the long hours when she is alone.

Consider again the children—their musical education is a constant problem for parents. No instrument can give them a finer, broader appreciation of good music. Their training will be aided, their creative powers quickened by the music of the world's greatest artists.

There is no member of the family who will not be benefited by a phonograph in the home—no home that will not be made cheerier, more inviting—a better home.

You are pausing on the threshold of a new year. The happiness it will bring to your family depends largely on yourself. Resolve NOW that the New Year shall bring Music into your home. ALL the Music of ALL the World—A STRADIVARA.

column a discussion pertaining to the City Council passing on a budget of expenses for the coming six months, involving over fifty thousand dollars, without due consideration. I would not reflect upon any of the members of council, acting as they did so long as our city administration is under the state law. The law requires the newly elected council to assume its duties the first day of January after election. The council according to custom, met on the second Monday and passed an appropriation ordinance involving the above amount.

Yes, the finance committee no doubt met preceding the organization of the council, or the parties who were so composed the finance committee. We ask where were the other four members of the council, who have a right to know how this large amount of money is to be expended, and any one knows they would not have time at a meeting to go so thoroughly into the matters. All members outside of the finance committee elect are supposed to come to the first meeting of council and vote for what this committee recommends.

Involving such an expenditure, would private business men, merchants, bankers etc., ask more time to learn how their agents representing them were using their money? Surely they would. As one of the finance committee stated in your columns, there must be haste to have the ordinance passed so the city employees could be paid. As stated above I do not reflect upon the members of the committee, but upon the form of government. To remedy this as well as many other things that are more necessary in city administrations over the state, a number of cities are voting to have a commission form of government, and their own charter.

I agree with our worthy president of council, when he expressed himself at the first meeting of the year in favor of a commission form of government, and only hope that he may use his influence upon other members of the council in giving the voters of the city the privilege of voting on the question, as to whether we shall retain these things or not by adopting this form of government.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

MRS. PRENTICE E. ROOD, Director of Press

By MRS. MARY PROCTOR WILSON

Send concise reports of your activities to the director of the press, Mrs. Mary Proctor Wilson, Lebanon.

District Presidents are requested to send to the Director of Press all news notes concerning their districts for publication. This is a personal request.

The following letter was sent out by Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, is meeting with a ready response on the part of Ohio club women:

Dear Madam Presidents—

Major-General Glenn, of Camp Sherman, has asked aid of the Ohio Federation of Women's Club in solving a very serious problem affecting the happiness of many soldiers whose absence while serving their country, is a great hardship to those left at home. From sixty to eighty letters a day are received by the commanding officers, from both soldiers and their relatives, telling sad stories of illness and distress, all of which tend to desertion on the part of the enlisted men.

I have pledged the help of our club women to befriend these unhappy wives and mothers; so should you receive an appeal from the camp's "Trouble Bureau," will not your organization uphold the honor and reputation of our Federation by promptly responding? All cases referred to us will be desperate ones and must be attended to at once.

Here is an opportunity to do your "bit" by ministering to the spirits of our army and its families during these strenuous times.

Faithfully yours,

VALINDA R. ROOD.

This will be a bit of war work much needed by the nation at this time.

CINCINNATI WOMEN HONORED

Two Cincinnati women have just received the distinction of being two of four selected from a list throughout the entire country to be appointed "draughtsmen" in the war department. They are Miss Flora F. Sherwood, 3109 Gilbert avenue, graduate of Hughes high school and of the art department of the Ohio Mechanics Institute, and Miss Ethel Roberts, 340 McCormick place, Mt. Auburn. The government recently sent out a hurry call for four women draughtsmen to work at Washington. The appointments carry a salary of $1,400 a year.

Utilization of schools for instruction of women to meet the needs of stenographers and other clerical workers at Washington was the principal matter discussed by Mrs. Belle Sherwin, acting chairman of the women's branch, State Council of National Defense, at a conference held in Cincinnati, recently. Mrs. Sherwin is prominent in organization work both in Cleveland and Columbus.

CENTRAL DISTRICT MEETING

The first meeting of the newly created central district, Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, will be held in Columbus early in February. The district is composed of Franklin and nine adjacent counties, with Mrs. W. H. Sharp, of Sixteenth avenue, Columbus, as district chairman. Mrs. Prentice Rood, Toledo, State President, and other State officials will be present. The federation will be merged into the community war chest organization and will aid in carrying three features the community organization of workers interested in any one work; supplementary effort and the propaganda of education as to what is being done by each organization.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat, or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for group-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

BIDDLE ONLY BACHELOR GEN. IN U. S. ARMY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26—Maj. Gen. John Biddle, assistant chief of staff of the United States army, is one of the most popular officers in the army. He is most unpretentious and modest, but his popularity is not solely due to his massiveness. He is a loyal friend and kindly gentleman, a good fellow in the very best sense of the term. In addition, he possesses tact. For instance, he was called upon to act as host when Gen. Joffre hero of the Marne, visited West Point. He was then superintendent of the academy. While reviewing the cadets, Joffre was exceedingly surprised, for altho he could not converse with the American officers in English, they apparently could all talk to him fluently in French.

"I tell you how I managed it," explained Gen. Biddle, afterward. "I knew that Joffre couldn't speak English, and so I picked out officers at the Point who could talk French and kept him constantly surrounded with them. Nothing could be more simple."

Gen. Biddle is a bachelor—the only bachelor general in the army. "Why doesn't he marry?" they have been asking "All the women, old and young, adore him." It is a mystery.

Ask one of Gen. Biddle's fellow officers about him and he will inform you that in all his army life, he has figured conspicuously as the "goat." For the apparent reason that he would accept cheerfully any task imposed upon him, he has had all sorts of undesirable jobs during his military career, but he performed them uncomplainingly. One of the undesirable tasks imposed upon him was the surveying of the island of Guam.

FRENCH AIRMEN HAVE A BUSY DAY

(International News Service)

PARIS, JAN. 26—French aerial activity has risen to a high pitch during the past twenty-four hours and four German machines were shot down in sky combats. The loss of the German machines was announced by the war office this afternoon.

French airmen threw down 8,000 kilograms of high explosives upon the German industrial cities of Ludwigshafen and Freiburg. Other aviators attacked the German military works and the railway at Thionville.

Observation planes have penetrated nearly 20 miles behind the German front while more than 300 photographs were taken by French aerial photographers.

Our obligation is to provide, in one way or another all that is necessary for the purposes of the war. One satisfactory way to provide is for people of the United States to buy War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

A new lesson has been placed in the curriculum of the American people. This is the lesson of economy. Invest money saved by economy in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

"I find great pleasure in writing you and thanking you for what Peruna has already done for me. I have been troubled with catarrh for years, and it had affected my head, nose, throat and stomach, that I could not eat nor sleep with any satisfaction."

OHIOANS ASKED TO SAVE ONE THIRTIETH OF INCOME FOR YEAR

Ohio's $108,000,000 quota of United States War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, multiplied approximately 30 times, would equal the estimated income of the people of the state during 1917. Per capita assessment of War Savings Stamps is fixed at $20, whereas the average income for Ohio people last year was in excess of $600.

These facts have been prepared by the Ohio War Savings Committee, from estimates of the nation's 1917 income.

The net income of the people of this country last year is estimated at $68,600,000,000; of this Ohio, representing about one-twentieth of the population, has income of $3,430,000,000.

SMILEAGE MEN PLAN CAMPAIGN THIS AFTERNOON

A number of men who are interested in the Smilage book movement will meet at the Park hotel this afternoon at three o'clock, for the purpose of organizing preparatory to the big sale that will be carried on this week.

The unqualified indorsement of the Smilage campaign has been given by Secretary of War Baker. When the commission on training camp activities had progressed to the point of building Liberty theatres equipped to accommodate 2,000 men—admission to which is to be coupons taken from the Smilage Book—the plans, in detail were laid before the War Secretary. He perused them, carefully and then penned the following letter of approval:

Fun Is Essential

"A proper amount of clean, wholesome entertainment contributes largely to the happiness of our soldiers, in camp and is fundamental in supplementing their physical and military training."

"To make such entertainment readily available for all soldiers, is one of the most important duties of the should absorb the state's quota of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps is urged by the Ohio War Savings Committee in its appeal to all sections of the state. The committee refers to the fact that it will be easy for some and difficult for others to meet the individual requirements, one individual will fail to meet requirements, the other will exceed expectations.

The 1917 income of the United States was $19,400,000,000 more than the previous year; indications are that the 1918 income will exceed that of last year. This being the case, Ohioans should find it relatively easy to reach and surpass the government's 1918 demands for purchase of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, the Ohio committee points out.

War Commission for Training Camp Activities, and the work must be continued and extended.

"I am glad to know that all entertainment projects will be consolidated and managed directly by your Commission."

"Your plan of selling Smilage Books seems to be an admirable way of financing this worthy enterprise because it gives to the individual citizen an easy opportunity of furnishing the means for numerous good times to his soldier friends."

"Very truly yours,
(Signed) "NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War."

BOLSHEVIKI SEE VICTORY

COPENHAGEN, JAN. 26.—Decisive victory by the Bolsheviks over the Cossack and Ukrainian counter revolutionaries was predicted by Premier Lenin in an address to the congress of the councils of workmen's and soldiers' delegates at Petrograd, said a dispatch from that city today.

Lenin outlined the policies of the Bolshevik government and denied the accusations of the Socialist revolutionists that he has assumed dictatorship of Russia.

The congress approved a resolution to repudiate the Russian national debt but the measure has not yet been made effective. A small minority of anti-Bolsheviks was voted down every time it proposed a resolution.

TROTSKY MAY RENEW PEACE CONFERENCE

(International News Service)
COPENHAGEN, JAN. 26.—Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, has been empowered to resume peace negotiations with the central empires at Brest Litovsk by the congress of workmen and soldiers' delegates of all Russia, said a dispatch from Petrograd this afternoon.

The dispatch added that the parley probably would be renewed on Tuesday.

Dr. Knehlmann, the German foreign minister, is scheduled to arrive at Brest Litovsk some time Tuesday and the Austrian foreign minister is expected there Monday.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated and to keep the entire alimentary canal free from the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left over waste, toxins and poisonous-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons, and rid the system each day, of the heavy canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

DUAL EMPIRE READY FOR A LITTLE PEACE

(International News Service)
LONDON, JAN. 26.—Austria-Hungary has signified her willingness to conclude a separate peace with Russia, in the event the present negotiations between Russia and the central powers at Brest Litovsk collapse, according to a dispatch from Petrograd today.

The dispatch added further that Austria had consented to treat with Russia on the democratic basis previously announced by the Bolshevik government.

ANOTHER BIG WEEK

The Mystic is offering another week of real features starting Monday with Vivian Martin in her latest Paramount success "The Sunset Trail." According to reports received from Cleveland where this picture was shown a short time ago it will more than please Mystic patrons.

The secrets of the German spy system are revealed in the startling new Fox production "The Spy," with Dustin Farnum in the stellar role. In "The Spy," which will be presented at the Mystic Wednesday and Thursday these are some of the outstanding points:

1. A fousing meeting of the Patriots' Club of New York.
2. Attempts of a German spy, on shipboard, to murder a member of the American Diplomatic Service.
3. Revelation of the Wilhelmstrasse—the most complete system of espionage that has ever existed.
4. Ball at the American embassy in Berlin, at which intrigue is carried on under the guise of social entertainment.
5. An American's successful attempt to gain possession of a list of German spies in the United States.
6. A German girl's sacrifice for the man she loves and the country of her adoption—the United States.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY RAISE A BOND ISSUE

COLUMBUS, O., JAN. 26.—When a bond issue for building or repairing schools is insufficient and another issue is made by the school board to complete the building such issues are valid, even tho the second issue was not authorized by a vote of the people. This ruling was made today by Attorney General McGhee to the Canton school board approving the issuance of $151,000 to complete construction of a new high school, the Claridon Avenue, J. J. Burns, and Daniel Worley School Buildings, and to building a new school in southwest Canton. This decision reverses rulings for former attorneys General T. S. Hogan and E. S. Turner.

Packers Become Desperate Over Investigation

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—The desperation of the meat packers in their attempt to head off threatened investigation of the meat industry in 1915 was further disclosed today before the federal trade commission. Special Counsel Francis J. Heney, read extracts from the packers confidential files barring a scheme to deluge congress and the house judiciary committee with advice to vote against the Borland resolution. The letter written by Arthur Meeker, vice president of the Armour and Company to F. E. White, described by Heney as Armour's confidential man was dated Washington, July 7, 1916, and said: "We are all agreed that it is very important to deluge the judiciary committee with telegrams from all over the country and especially the districts where the members come from, protesting against the passage of the Borland resolution on the grounds that live stock is selling at very satisfactory price and any investigation will only disturb present satisfactory conditions. Please arrange a meeting this morning with Veeder and Nelson Morris. Get a committee to work on this promptly. Presume banks, commission men, breeders of cattle and live stock men generally and any one else you think of that would be helpful. Think messages should be sent also to congressmen as well as members of judiciary committee. The congressional directory can give you the list of their names and where they come from. I refer to the judiciary committee, not to the subsidiary committee. It is quite important to reach Gard, of Hamilton, O. Perhaps Proctor, from Cincinnati, knows him. Please get as much action as you can on this promptly and have the messages sent in varied language."

When this letter was read, Commissioner Victor Murdock, a former member of congress, explained, to make the record clear, that in propaganda to affect members of congress, it was generally the method to deluge congress with telegrams and letters, but that in so many cases the letters or telegrams were so similar in language they lost their effect.

Resolve: To Do Away With Wash- Day Drudgery

Perhaps you think, Madame, that you are saving money by doing the washing yourself. But you're not and you're going to live to regret it. Your health won't stand it. A woman's constitution was never meant to endure the pack of wash-day drudgery and washing and ironing at home. And if you keep it up, you are going to give your body and the blood in that body a lot of trouble. The doctor bills that you are going to pay in the long run, will show you too late that you shouldn't have subjected those delicate organisms of yours to such a strain.

With our modern machinery we are able to do this work cheaply, and just as well and sanitariously as you would yourself.

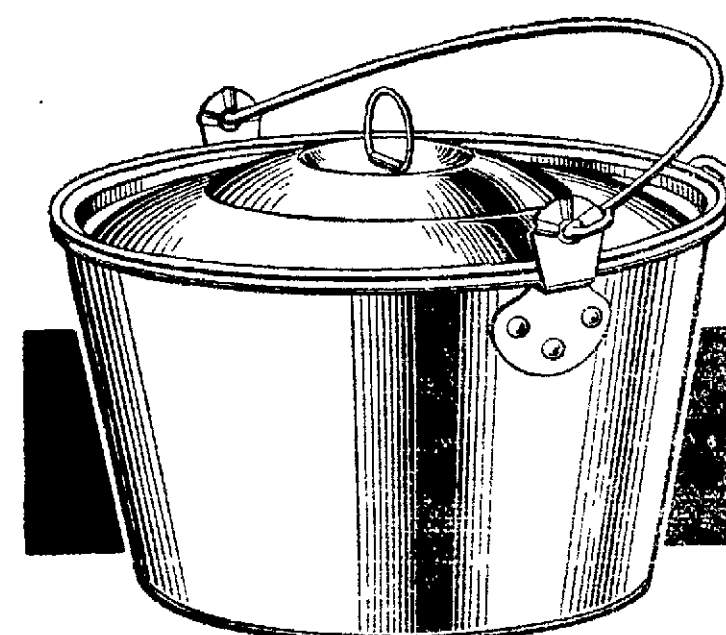

Make up your mind to be relieved of wash-day drudgery during the coming year, by sending your laundry to us.

HUSBAND HELD FOR STABBING WAYWARD WIFE

TIFFIN, O., JAN. 26.—An irate husband, standing with a dagger in his sleeve, listening to the confession of his wife's infidelity from her own lips, his scornful reception of her plea for forgiveness; at length apparent capitulation to her entreaties and, at the climax of a passionate embrace, the gleaming arc of the knife, propelled with all the strength of his jealous rage, straight to her heart.

This was the picture conjured up today by attorneys for the state for the jurors in the trial of W. O. Bigham, Attiea, O., automobile dealer, charged with the murder of his wife in their home last August.

Argument in the trial opened today. Attorneys for the state asserted that had proved by the evidence that the dead woman had been intimate with Elwood Yonkers, one of her husband's discharged employees, that her husband had learned of the intimacy thru Yonkers's wife, who had given him letters said to have been exchanged and that when confronted with this alleged evidence the wife broke down and confessed.

The state pictured Bigham in a frenzy of rage, refusing to listen to his wife's pleadings even after she had thrown her arms about his neck. At length they said, elaborating on the imaginative reproduction of the scene in the Bigham home, he seemed to relent and returned his wife's caresses. Pentient and ashamed, she told him she had planned to elope with the former employee, and gave her husband $75 she had saved from her allowance. Then, a return of his jealous rage; and the knife.

The defense will contend that Mrs. Bigham, whose body was found in her kitchen by neighbors, committed suicide.

investment," as one charter member happily expressed it.

County Superintendent of Schools L. C. Shaw was elected president of the organization, and R. H. Mills, cashier of the Peoples Bank was made secretary by unanimous vote.

Pledge cards to be signed by prospective members of the club were distributed among the men present, and many were filled out on the spot. Little difficulty is anticipated in filling up the membership to the limit, and when that limit is reached the thousand dollar sales will be closed to allow the smaller investors to make up the remaining $414,000 of the county's quota.

Organization of the executive committees of each township will be taken up early in the week, and it is hoped to raise the county's quota before February has slipped past.

The flotation of the third liberty loan is expected about February 15, but this campaign will be kept entirely separated from the third loan drive.

purchase mixed cereal breads from bakers.

"To provide cereal foods for homes and public eating places, dealers and manufacturers should substitute potatoes, vegetables, corn, barley, oats, and rice products and mixed cereal bread with other products of bakeries which contain an admixture of other cereals. In order that consumption be restricted to this extent, Mondays and Wednesdays should be observed as wheatless days each week, and one meal each day should be observed as a wheatless meal. In both homes and public eating places, in order to reduce consumption of beef, pork and sheep products, Tuesday should be observed as a meatless day each week, and one meatless meal should be observed each day, while in addition Saturday of each week should further be observed as a day upon which there should be no consumption of pork products.

"Continued economy in the use of sugar will be necessary until later in the year. It is imperative that all waste and unnecessary consumption of all sorts of food stuffs should be rigidly eliminated.

"The maintenance of the health and strength of our own people is vitally necessary at this time and there should be no restriction of the food supply, but rather elimination of every sort of waste and the substitution of other commodities which we have in greater abundance.

"Saving supplies for those whom we must feed will in no way impair the strength of our people, but will enable us to meet one of the most pressing obligations of the war.

"I, therefore, in the national interest take the liberty of calling upon every loyal American to take fully to heart the suggestions which are being circulated by the food administration and of begging that they be followed. I am confident that the great body of our women who labored so loyally in co-operation with the food administration for the success of food conservation will strengthen their efforts and will take it as a part of their burden during their period of national service to see that the above suggestions are observed throughout the land."

Miners Of Nation Plan Vote On Old Age Relief Fund

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., JAN. 26.—A referendum vote of the rank and file of miners throughout the United States will determine whether or not they will vote for the aged and old age pensions. This was determined upon by a vote of the convention of United Mine Workers of America this afternoon after a special investigating committee had made its report. The referendum vote will be referred to the international board of the organization and will come up for ratification at the 1920 convention.

The litigation committee of the United Mine Workers was in conference with district presidents and chairmen this afternoon preparing recommendations for raising $800,000 to appeal a case involving judgment for $200,000 decided against the union in the federal court of Arkansas. It was expected the convention would accept the recommendations without debate.

A quarrel of four years standing between Alex Howatt, head of the Kansas miners, and former President John P. White, was renewed today when Howatt took the floor on a question of personal privilege and declared that White had "vilified" him. The friction grew out of controversy over a wage increase for Kansas miners. The convention will adjourn early tonight it was believed this afternoon.

STATE WILL RECRUIT 23,000 SHIPBUILDERS IN TWO WEEKS' DRIVE

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, JAN. 26.—With a view to recruiting 23,000 Ohio mechanics for shipbuilding the Ohio war council announced its intention today of starting a two weeks' campaign next Monday. The campaign will be conducted thru the councils, 22 free employment bureaus and thru these special agents:

H. L. Morrison, Alliance; W. F. Rogge, Toledo; Orville Corson, Middletown; James O. E. Cleberry, Newark; Geo. D. Richardson, Dayton; Chas. F. Kennedy and Herbert Gletsch, Cleveland; C. E. Thompkins, Lima; John Enderle, Jr., Cincinnati, and

Lester Dewitt, Canton.

The proposed enrollment does not mean that the men are to be called immediately for service. It is part of a nation-wide movement started by the federal department of labor and public service reserve and the national war council, to register 250,000 workmen for ship building who will be held as a reserve from which men will be called when needed. The plan is also designed to cause the least possible disturbance to industries. Enrollment, however, does not exempt from the draft. Men in ship yards now are in the deferred classification.

"Twin Beds"

The announcement of the 6th St. Theatre for Friday, Feb. 1, is Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's uproariously funny comedy, "Twin Beds," the play that is making the whole world laugh, and the same high class production and cast that recently played the Euclid Ave. Opera House, Cleveland, and the Grand Opera House, Cincinnati, with Lois Bolton in the leading role. "Twin Beds" is conceded to be the best and the most diverting comedy ever written. New ventures are difficult, and new trails hard to follow, but in "Twin Beds," Mr. Field and Miss Mayo are said to have written the typical comedy upon a new and original idea with an air of possibility and plausibility. It is the laugh play of the century, a comedy for all tastes, a tonic for old and young. Its story is built around the fact that people who live in fashionable apartment houses, whose only personal bend is that they pay rent to the same landlord, still have an unwelcome neighborliness thrust upon them by the same landlord, still way of elevator, dumbwaiter and insufficiency of lathes and plaster.

cago, from R. C. McManus, in Washington, dated Aug. 21, 1916, showed the packers expected to control the full judiciary committee.

The letter said:

"We can rely upon Webb of North Carolina; Carlin, Virginia; Thomas, Kentucky; Taggart, Kansas; Igou, (Missouri); Williams, Illinois; Whaley, South Carolina; Dale, New York; Carraway, Arkansas; Dyer, Missouri."

"I am also assured that Gard can be controlled."

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—Disclosures full of political dynamite were made before the federal trade commission, investigating the meat packing industry today when letters from miles of the packers were read showing they expected to control the committee considering the Borland resolution and the result of their efforts.

A letter dated July 29, 1916, to Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co., from F. C. McManus, of the legal department, to which the members of the committee were referred to by initials, said in part:

"Wednesday the chairman, relying on G—, called for a vote. W— as junior member, voted first and against reporting any resolution favorably. G— second to vote made a speech and voted for the resolution. M— third, voted for it. The chairman then said he was against it, but that at all events it was necessary to find out what an investigation would cost so he undertook to ask the commission. He found only Davies there. Harley and Harris were away."

"We have three possible actions by sub-committee: one, G—, is at home in Ohio. There may be a chance to call it up while he is away if T— can be relied upon. In that case a vote might be taken to report against the resolution."

Chairman advises against this because he says it would open the door in the senate for a similar resolution there and also give the other side an excuse to try to get the full committee to reverse.

"No. 2—To report no recommendation. This he thinks it might be easier to do. T— would rather do this than No. 1. This still open to action in the senate."

"No. 3—Emasculate resolution to cover widest possible scope and sub-committee pass it with big appropriation."

"The chairman of the full committee (judiciary) is with us and C— says very little chance of full committee will act, this session, anyway."

"I saw C— and rode around town with him for an hour. He says he is sure he would agree to No. 3. I have wired Geo. L. McCarthy (he is secretary of the Meat Packers' Association). He will be here Monday night and I plan to have him go to Cincinnati where his acquaintance should help us with G—."

"I vote to leave it with C—"

(Signed) "R. C. M."

The memorandum of the sub-committee meeting at which it was voted on the third vote to report the Borland resolution without recommendation was unanimous, was then read to the committee.

Still Hunting Baker's Scalp

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—Both sides in the struggle over the conduct of the war rested on their arms today awaiting the return of War Secretary Baker to the War Department to face the charge against Senator Chamberlain's charge that the war management is honeycombed with inefficiency.

Members of the senate military affairs committee before whom Secretary Baker will appear, declared their case proved unless Mr. Baker can supplement his previous testimony by more convincing facts. They made it clear that they are not "after Baker's scalp." His job has been so tremendous, they pointed out, that in the very nature of things, he has not been able to know at first hand what has been going on in the various bureaus under his jurisdiction. For this reason, they declared they are determined that none of the recent developments in war department re-organization can serve them from their adherence to the war cabinet and munitions dictatorship program.

Edward J. Stettinius, appointed yesterday by Secretary Baker as "surveyor of supplies," is strongly endorsed by members of the committee. "He was one of the very men they had in mind when they drafted the war cabinet-munitions dictatorship bills. But, they pointed out, his authority in the war department not being clearly established by law, will fall far short of the broad powers necessary to secure adequate results in obtaining war materials."

pers described himself as Andrew Evanoff, a Russian, 32 years old, living in Newark. He admitted that he had once been employed for a short time at the ship yards. Officials declared that Evanoff gave evidence of being a skilled draftsman and they believed that he possessed more than ordinary education and intelligence.

Evanoff was held at Newark police headquarters as a suspicious character. He was arrested in the shipyard zone when the fire was at its height.

The other two men arrested were held by the military authorities. Their names were not made public. Both were arrested near the yards when they failed to halt at the command of soldiers.

The 13 others being detained were taken into custody from barges along the river.

The fire was not finally under control until fireboats from New York and fire apparatus from several nearby towns were rushed to the assistance of the Newark department.

NEWARK, N. J., JAN. 26.

Nearly 2,000 yards of government pier property was destroyed, seven big supply barges were sunk, and the immense shipbuilding plant of the Submarine Boat Corporation damaged in a fire of suspicious origin which swept through the government ship yards in Newark bay early today. All reports indicate that the blaze was started by enemy agents.

Chief of Police Long declared several shots were exchanged between United States soldiers on guard and a spy suspect surprised on the roof of one of the buildings in the early stage of the blaze. He said that the man disappeared suddenly during the shooting and added, "he might have been hit."

Other reports in circulation said that another suspect had been captured after a fight and that a man with two bullet wounds in his body had been found unconscious in the mud-dwelling half a mile from the scene.

Military authorities in charge of the zone admitted that 16 persons, three of them women, had been detained for examination. It was stated that they had not been arrested but were simply held that they might be examined later. Most of them were taken off barges anchored near the scene of the fire.

The military authorities asserted the firing which was heard early in the day was designed to keep the crowds back.

No accurate estimate of the damage could be obtained. Officials estimated, however, that it would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The fire started on a pier loaded with oil, creosote and tar towards the upper end of a 2,000-foot channel which the government had dredged thru the zone from the bay proper. Within a few seconds the oil barrels were exploding and scattering burning oil over all surrounding property.

At last accounts the blaze had not reached any of the 48 big shipways in course of construction in the yard of the keel of the new ship which was laid a few days ago. Officials admitting that the yard was in peril, said they hoped to check the fire. All the fire apparatus available, including some from New York, was used to save the ways.

AUTOS USED TO HAUL BOOZE ARE AUCTIONED

(International News Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., JAN. 27.—The seeker after bargains in automobiles had a real festival the other day at the sale of three cars, confiscated by county officials, whose owners were using them to haul booze.

The three cars, not having been redeemed, were sold under the hammer.

One man, "Doc" Beatty, of Jones City, had a car, whose owners put up a fight with officials in which two men were shot, for $135.

Constable John A. Denny had the "onliest" of the three cars for $35.

A negro named Holland had the third car for $160. Later he refused to pay for his purchase. Sheriff G. S. Johnson declares he will sue the negro and force payment.

ALIENS TRY TO DESTROY GREAT PIER

New Government Shipyards On Newark Bay Badly Damaged.

WAYS ARE SAVED BY GREAT EFFORT

Loss In Money Alone Is Estimated At a Million Dollars.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, JAN. 26.—Attempting, it is believed, to destroy the big Pennsylvania piers here, alien enemies this afternoon are held responsible for a fire aboard the American steamer Deep Water, loading supplies for Italy at the piers. One hundred and fifty barrels of benzine had already been placed aboard the ship and a large quantity of tarpaper, oils and benzine were on the piers ready to be taken aboard.

Fearing an explosion, tugs rushed the steamer into midstream where fire boats and tugs are trying to extinguish the flames.

They were notified and began an invasion of a nation-wide plot to destroy docks and factories working on war contracts. The plotters, it is believed, hoped that by firing the ship an explosion of the inflammables on board would follow, thus destroying both the ship and the piers and their contents.

Government officials have hurried to the scene of the fire as soon as reports that a letter warning President Wilson. It was learned this afternoon that the ship's cargo consisted of 300 bales of army blankets, locomotives, glass, tarpaper, steel bars, 390 drums of glycerine.

It was later learned that 150 barrels of benzine and oils had already been placed aboard the ship. The work of the fire fighters was handicapped by the fear of an explosion occurring at any minute. A large quantity of blankets and tarpaper form part of the ship's cargo.

Sulu Women Warriors.

In the Philippines American soldiers on several occasions came in contact with Sulu women warriors. In one of the last battles on the islands the Sulus fortified themselves in the bowl of an extinct volcano. It was rushed and captured by American soldiers, who discovered to their dismay, after the battle, that a number of their antagonists had been women. Their figures were as slim as those of the men; both sexes wore their hair long, with handkerchiefs over their heads, and the women wore trousers similar to those worn in Turkey. Thus they were practically indistinguishable from the men. The bravery of these women warriors appears all the more remarkable when it is recalled that according to the Mohammedan faith a man who is slain while fighting Christians is translated at once to heaven, but as the women are not supposed to have souls their sacrifice of life is without hope of reward in a hereafter.

Sane, but Insane.

Sane but mad, according to the doctors, a man has been released from a London asylum. He had been suffering from insomnia and was given an injection of some preparation of morphine, the effects of which were practically unknown. He went to stay at a boarding house and in giving a reading from Dickens impersonated Pickwick. As "Pickwick" was in the middle of his performance the doctor who had attended him came to the house, and, assuming his dressing up to be an act of insanity, gave a certificate next day for his removal to the country asylum.

Some Wave.

Benevolent Old Lady (to Jack Tar).—I suppose you have seen some hard times, sailor?

Jack Tar—Lor' lumme, mum, I should just say I've. Why, me and six pals was once on the crest of one wave for fourteen hours with only one bit of baccy to chew between us.—London Ideas.

Her Desire.

Alice—It's quite a secret, but I was married last week to Dick Gay.

Jane—Indeed! I should have thought you'd be the last person in the world to marry him.

Alice—Well, I hope I am!—Pearson's Weekly.

OFFICIALS LINK THREE FIRES IN A MONSTER PLOT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—A searching investigation into the cause of the fatal explosion at the Newport torpedo station was started by the navy department tonight. Occurring simultaneously with the great fires at Newark and Baltimore, some officials see more than a coincidence in the Newport explosion. The official report that no suspicious circumstances are attached is looked upon as a preliminary.

WHAT IT COSTS UNCLE SAM TO MAKE SOLDIERS

WASHINGTON, JAN. 26.—It costs more to make soldiers in some parts of the United States than it does in others, says a statesman from Washington.

This may sound queer to the layman, who thinks that because Uncle Sam buys supplies at uniform prices for all parts of the country, and pays the same salaries everywhere, soldiers should cost no more in one region than in another.

The highest per capita cost in turning out soldiers is $182. You'd never guess where this price obtains. New York, your choice? Guess again. Michigan and Massachusetts, with Camp Custer and Devens respectively in the national army, are tied at the high mark.

It is cheapest at American Lake, Wash., where Uncle Sam's soldiers cost him only $142 each.

Here is the way the sixteen cantonments rank in per capita cost for soldiers, from lowest cost to highest:

Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., $146.

Camp Taylorville, Louisville, Ky., $149.

Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., $146.

Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark., $151.

Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan., $153.

Camp Travis, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, $156.

Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., $157.

Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., $158.

Camp Mead, Annapolis Junction, Md., $158.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., $164.

Camp Union, Yaphank, L. I., $165.

Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., $167.

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., $170.

Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., $182.

Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., $182.

Big Steamer In Distress

AN ATLANTIC PORT, JAN. 26.—The steamer City of Wilmington is in distress somewhere off the Atlantic coast, according to "S. O. S." signals sent out by her early today. Radio messages were picked up by several shore stations which stated that the ship had boiler trouble, was short of provisions and needed assistance. Her exact location was not made public.

The City of Wilmington is owned by Alexander Sprout, New York.

The War Board of Ohio Today Says:

There is no more reason why it should be known as a New England dinner than as an Ohio dinner. It might be called a war dinner.

A steaming dish of fresh vegetables, mingled in just the right proportion, and perhaps a piece of corned beef in the middle, makes the finest kind of an evening meal and goes well with corn bread.

Vegetable dinners are much in favor now, because they may be made from our home gardens, produced at very little cost, and involving no transportation expense.

Vegetables can not be shipped abroad for the use of either our soldiers or our allies. So in eating vegetables, we are leaving free other things that can better be shipped.

Escalloped vegetables also make a good evening meal. Arrange the cooked vegetables in a baking dish, in alternate layers with white sauce. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake, and brown in the oven. Cheese, hard cooked eggs, peppers and fish may be added, if desired.
